The Australia and New Zealand Cobra owners meet ended on a very positive note recently. After discussions, exchange of views and ideas and many inspiring sessions, the final day of the meet turned out to be very eventful. The main highlight of the final day of the meet was the final meeting, in which Spencer Galbally discussed the remarkable success of David D'Agostino, who has registered landmark achievements in Italy. Another highlight was the Paralympic video presentation and the interview between Anthony Tarquini and inspirational Paralympic hero, Heath Francis, an interview which made everyone realize what The Cobra Group has done for the Paralympians.
